4. Local transportation

The Federation and Fe y Alegría Peru will provide transportation for all participants from Jorge Chávez International Airport to Casa de Retiros "P. Kevin Gallagher, S.J." Retreat House, as well as the return trip to the airport. Staff picking you up will be wearing Fe y Alegría identification.

5. Health and insurance

International health insurance covering medical care in Lima, Peru, is mandatory. If you take any medication, bring enough for your entire stay along with your prescription. Please also let the organizers know about any allergies or relevant medical conditions. Basic emergency care will be available at Casa de Retiros "P. Kevin Gallagher, S.J." For questions about insurance, please contact Somarick Roca (s.roca@feyalegria.org).

6. Visas and entry requirements for Peru

- Keep your invitation letter for the Fe y Alegría International Congress events available. (see template).

7. Weather in Lima

According to official forecasts, October 2026 will be warmer than usual in Lima, with summer-like temperatures due to the Coastal El Niño phenomenon. Temperatures are expected to range from 19 °C (66 °F) to 29 °C (84 °F). A light breeze usually blows in the evenings.

8. Dress code

We recommend bringing light, comfortable clothing suitable for warm weather, as well as a warm jacket. For the Fe y Alegría Peru celebration on Wednesday, October 21, formal attire is recommended, with a jacket or light sweater.

9. Liturgical celebrations

Mass will be celebrated daily during the Congress. Stoles will be provided to priests for the Eucharistic celebrations.

10. Currency exchange

Currency exchange offices open 24 hours a day are located in the international arrivals area of Jorge Chávez International Airport. There are several exchange offices in Lima, but we recommend exchanging money at the airport.

11. Important

Please bring your own headphones; you will need them for simultaneous interpretation.
